

14th LJUBLJANA SUMMER SCHOOL

Take the Best from East and West

8-26 July 2013

TEACHING OPPORTUNITY

The Faculty of Economics, University of Ljubljana, Slovenia (FELU) invites international faculty to submit course proposal(s) on Bachelor or Master level with an International or South-East European focus in the field of Economics or Business Studies.

Ljubljana Summer School Take the Best from East and West

It is an internationally renowned programme that was created in the summer of 2000. In 2012, 480 students from all over the world studied 27 Bachelor and Master Courses taught by FELU and international faculty. The programme imparts knowledge with social activities by taking full advantage of Slovenia's unique geographical position: the meeting point of East and West.

Lecturing

Lecturing is in English. There are 10 lecture days (Monday-Thursday) of 3 in-class units per course/day and 15 units for other teaching methods including homework, readings, seminar work, exam, evaluation of exam and similar. On the 26 July is the examination day.

Payment

For lecturing, accommodation and transportation costs we offer 3.500 EUR before tax (25% tax) per one 6 ECTS course (undergraduate course) and 4.000 EUR before tax (25% tax) per one 7 or 8 ECTS course (graduate course). A request for exemption from tax is possible; our Accounting department will assist in this process.

For the faculty we organise an attractive social programme and lunch on week-days.

Application

Please apply online before 5 November 2012. The selection will be done in December when the applicants will be notified by email.
